Imagination Stations Arrive June 30th

Calling curious kids of all ages! It's imagination station time again! You may remember these engaging activity set-ups from past summers at the Library. If you haven't experienced these fun challenges before, you're in for a treat.

Imagination stations are hands-on, self-guided learning and creativity stations about a selected topic. Each week, a different imagination station will be available during regular hours at each BCPL location. Kids can complete a short challenge at each station to earn both a take-away prize and an extra entry in the Grand Prize drawing at the SummerQuest Finale.

This year's stations are:

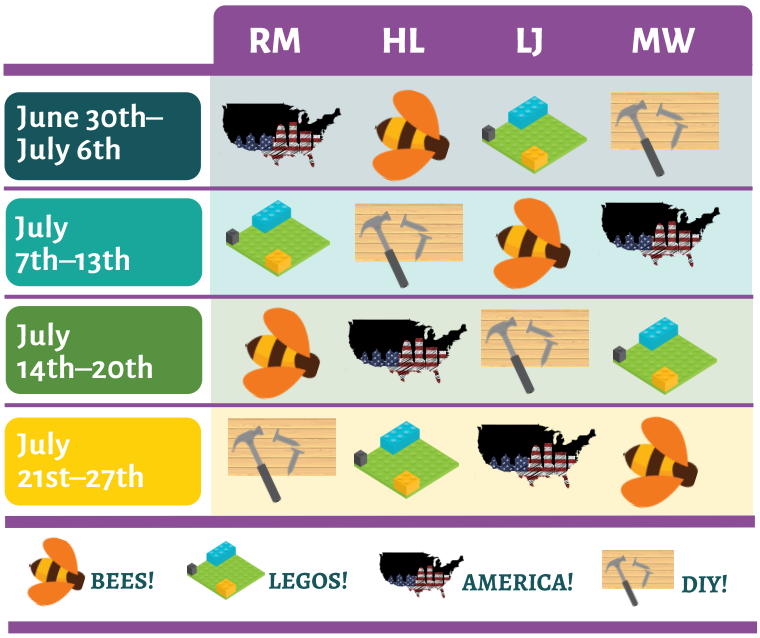
BEES! Travel around the library and find the location of all the escaped bees.

LEGOS! Build an amazing creation using the LEGO pieces we will provide for you.

AMERICA! Using our Lincoln Logs, see if you can build your own log cabin like the early pioneers.

DIY! Learn about balance, building, and design as you use our building planks to create a masterpiece.

ROTATION SCHEDULE



SummerQuest Adventures Continue Through July 29th!

The first month of SummerQuest has flown by! So far, we've enjoyed a giant puppet performance from Madcap Puppets, a magic show, awesome makerspaces, an outdoor rock concert, and so much more. But the excitement isn't over yet. July is jam-packed with quilting, gaming, comedy, trucks, and even real live penguins!

By the time the SummerQuest Finale rolls around on July 29th, nobody will want it to end! But we hope you'll join us from 1:00 to 3:00 PM at the Hillview Branch outdoor pavilion to finish our celebration with ice cream and snow cones! Plus, you can be there with us for the Grand Prize drawings. No registration required; just drop in!

In the meantime, here are a few things to remember to get the most from your SummerQuest adventure and to maximize your chance to win in the Grand Prize drawing:

You still earn a Grand Prize entry ticket for every program you attend. This includes entries for adults or teens who attend children's programs with a participating child.

Don't forget about our Reading Challenges! Tweens, teens, and adults earn prize tickets for each challenge they complete and for submitting book selfies and reviews. Children earn tickets (and prizes!) for each mission they accomplish on their reading log. Only tickets, reviews, and selfies submitted by July 28th (or tickets issued at the Finale itself) will be entered in the prize drawing.

In addition to our prize drawing at the Finale, everyone who completes their reading challenge and turns in their reading log or 10-in-10 bookmark by August 12th will receive an "I Completed My SummerQuest" T-shirt or yard sign!

For more details or to submit a book review and selfie, visit www.bcplib.org/SummerQuest.

Let Us Help You Celebrate Anti-Boredom Month!

Welcome to July! Seeing as how this is National Anti-Boredom Month, why not celebrate with a new hobby or skill using the tools at your library? If you're not sure where to start, let's grab a few more ideas from the other National Month events for July.

July is National Parks and Recreation Month. Come in to check out a book on hiking and backpacking techniques and pick a destination out of Hiking Kentucky or Hiking Indiana. Combine that with exploring nature photography, which you can learn more about with some courses on Lynda.com.

July is National Culinary Arts Month. The Library has cookbooks galore, plus DVDs and streaming videos to let you see all the detail! Also, we have chef memoirs and food writing if you want to know more about the people and ingredients that make up the food world. If you would rather celebrate the culinary arts with a movie, pick up a copy of Chef, Spanglish, or Ratatouille and watch the kitchen masters do their thing.

July is National Pickle Month. We have you covered. We have books on pickling, canning, and preserving. Pickle all of the things!

July is National Doghouse Repairs Month. This is getting pretty specific! Pick up a book on woodworking, or use one of our computers to watch a video on repairing wood damage. Your dog will appreciate it.

Though not exactly a National Month event, July makes up part of National Air Conditioning Appreciation Days. So many options! Stop by at your local branch and enjoy the cool temperatures inside. Look through our copies of Consumer Reports to pick the best portable air conditioner for your needs. Use our online Auto Repair Reference Center to get info on fixing your car's air conditioning system, complete with specific instructions and diagrams for your car's make and model. Or stay cool indoors and use Treehouse to learn how to code websites and possibly start in a new career.

July is International Blondie and Deborah Harry Month. Visit Hoopla, borrow the Greatest Hits album, and celebrate!

Your Library has everything you need to observe National Anti-Boredom Month and beyond. Check us out!

Mt. Washington Construction Update

It's all coming together! More furniture is on its way, our Art Wall is installed, and shelving units are in place throughout the building. Outside, pavers have been put in to create a convenient access path for walkers, exterior signage is under construction, and landscaping is in progress. We know you are all eager for the Grand Opening, but there are still a few key tasks before we can choose a date, including the completion of a special light installation and a thorough cleaning before we start moving in library materials. But please stay tuned; we'll make an announcement on our website and social media channels as soon as a date is determined!

BCPL Offering New, Better Resources to Simplify and Enhance Your Life

We here at BCPL strive to provide you with the best information we can through resources that are relevant to your life and work. To that aim, we have been busy adding new databases to our collection that we think will help you better explore, learn, and enjoy in all the aspects of your life.

In mid June, we began offering access to ReferenceUSA, an online database providing current, in-depth information on U.S. businesses and residents. This resource is a bit more comprehensive and updates more frequently than AtoZdatabases, which it will be replacing.

ReferenceUSA is an excellent tool for job seekers, students, market researchers, and small business owners, offering quick access to the information you need to search jobs and internships, research companies and executives, compile mailing lists, reach fundraising and sales goals, conduct competitive analyses, create marketing plans, and more. Plus, consumers can use the tools to research medical professionals, to research a neighborhood before buying a new home, or to locate the addresses and phone numbers of friends or relatives they've lost touch with.

Later in July, we will also be introducing a new resource to further your creative goals! Hobbies & Crafts Reference Center will provide online access to articles, video tutorials, recipes, and more on a variety of topics, from wine and beer making to model railroads, scrapbooking, and needle crafts.

Let the Music Inspire You to Build a Better World

To help you find a bit of inspiration to Build a Better World this summer and beyond, we've created a selection of shareable playlists on Spotify.

Our playlists include songs about building, working together, growing communities, and standing up for what you believe is right. For example, the Protest: Stand Up, Speak Out playlist highlights protest songs ranging from classics like Bob Marley's "Get Up, Stand Up" and Bob Dylan's "Master of War" to "Paper Planes" by M.I.A.

Some of the other special playlists created just for SummerQuest include Community Spirit, Dreams for a Better World, and Scenes Around Town. We even have a playlist of children's songs about building and community to entertain the little ones! Additional playlists, from Poetry Readings to a playlist of songs inspired by books, are also featured on the BCPL account.

Please note that to listen to Spotify playlists, you must have a Spotify account. Free accounts are available but include occasional advertisements. For more information, find us on Spotify or visit the Spotify Playlists page linked on our SummerQuest homepage at www.bcplib.org/summerreading.

It's Time to Meet Libby!

If you're a library e-book user with an Overdrive account, you need to meet Libby.

The new Libby app from Overdrive is a streamlined, user-friendly interface meant to make your digital library experience even easier. We all love the convenience of the one-click revolution, and Libby provides a simplified one-tap option to place holds, borrow, and view your shelf on one convenient screen. The familiar OverDrive app isn't going away—so you can still use that if you prefer—but Libby offers an easy, engaging app experience for e-book and e-audiobook readers ready to try something new.

From anywhere within the app, you can immediately access your unified bookshelf where you can view your holds and loans across multiple libraries. At the bottom of the screen, Libby's adorable face waits patiently between "Library"— which will take you to Kentucky Libraries Unbound—and "Shelf"— which will take you to your bookshelf to view your Loans, Holds, Tags, and Activities. It's that simple to navigate!

Libby doesn't currently offer accessibility or multilingual options—that's in development though!—so users needing those features should stick with the standard OverDrive app for now.

NEED AN INTRODUCTION?

- Schedule an appointment with a member of our Reference team!
- Reference staff members at each location are happy to help you learn more about your many options for getting e-books, audiobooks, and more for FREE with your library card.

How you can meet Libby:

- Libby by Overdrive Labs is available from Google Play, Apple App Store, and the Windows Store.
- Once you install, the app prompts you to Meet Libby! If you tap the "Hi" button, she sends you to the interface.
- Libby walks you through setting up your library card or signing in with your existing Overdrive account.
- That's it! Once your account is connected, it's easier than ever to browse, search, and borrow 24/7 from the comfort of your own home.

Highly Illogical Behavior
by John Corey Whaley

Recommended by Tracy
Public Relations Coordinator

I can't say enough good things about this book! Unlike some other "award worthy" books, Highly Illogical Behavior doesn't feel pretentious or like it's actually trying to win an award. Instead, there's an unselfconscious ease and wit, creating a highly readable story about mental illness, friendship, and taking chances. The characters are quirky and immensely likable despite their flaws, and Whaley has done a remarkable job of making the thoughts and fears of a teenage agoraphobe relatable. Even better, he has created a fully rounded character with Sol that is so much more than the fear others use to define him.

This is a must read for fans of John Green, Jandy Nelson, or Nicola Yoon's Everything, Everything.

SIDE NOTE: Have you heard? A new John Green book, Turtles All the Way Down, will be released October 10th!
