

Wipe the Slate Clean in 2018!

Do you have a pile of library books from years ago stuffed into the back of your closet? Or maybe you checked out a stack of movies, brought them back a week late, and just couldn't face the overdue fines that racked up while you weren't paying attention.

Please don't let those things keep you from the Library! Now is your chance to start fresh, with no late fines on your account and no judgment from us.

Every year, we bring you Fine Forgiveness February so that you can start the year off right at BCPL. Throughout the month of February, we will waive all late fees on overdue items as long as they are checked back in by 8:00 PM on Wednesday, February 28th.

In addition, if you have overdue items and pre-existing fines already charged to your account, we want to forgive them! Bring those long overdue items back to your favorite BCPL location, stop by the circulation desk, and request that your fines be waived. As long as you return all your overdue items—no matter how long you've had them!—we'll clear your account.

Return your overdues in February.
NO FINES. NO JUDGMENT.

Beat the Winter Boredom: Learn Something New

Most of us dread this time of year. The excitement of the holidays is behind us.

Spring (and that magical time we call "spring break") seems like an eternity away. February days tend to be short, cold, and very frosty, which means you're cooped up inside with into the snow, despite what the neighbors might think.

But all you need to combat cabin fever is something new to focus on. If one of your New Year's resolutions is to learn something new, now is the perfect time to take that leap. You'll be so busy learning the ropes, you won't even notice time passing! BCPL has several options for you to pick up a new the kids and pets. Your patience runs short, family tempers flare, and sometimes, you want to run screaming hobby this month, both in person and online. If crafting is your thing, we have several craft programs coming your way this February, including Introduction to Weaving and Crochet for Beginners. Fiber crafting is a meditative and relaxing way to channel your energy if cabin fever is making you restless.

But you don't have to visit the library to learn a new hobby (though we sure do like when you come in!). Have you checked out Hobbies and Crafts Reference Center? This online resource is chock-full of every fun craft you can imagine, and even more that you can't.

If you want to learn to paint or sculpt, you'll find tutorials and articles on the Arts & Crafts page. And there are tons of how-to articles for amateur astronomers. Did you know you can see Pluto by telescope? The February night sky is clear and bright, perfect for stargazing. From homebrewing and wine-making to scrapbooking and jewelry-making, this resource should be your one-stop shop for picking up that new hobby.

If you're not much on crafting, astronomy, or beer and wine but you really like cars, you should visit the Auto Repair Reference Center. Watch videos February is a pretty short month, but we are packing it with some excellent opportunities this year. First, we are proudly offering another Fine Forgiveness February, so as long as all of your late and lost items are returned we can waive your overdue fines and get you back to borrowing books, movies, and more. Second, we are sticking with our New Year's resolution and making a big push to discover what your relationship with the Library is currently and what it could become. Your feedback will help us determine some new goals and help us form a plan for the near future—talk about an opportunity!

Libraries have changed a lot since the days of handwritten books and having bookshelves closed off from the public (except that some libraries have gone back to checking out albums on vinyl, because that's cool again) because they adapt to the needs of their patrons (see the vinyl album note above). The best way for us to know your needs is for us to listen and ask questions and for you, our patrons, to give feedback. It's not a new thing, but making sure that we do it in a productive manner takes a change in habits, just like a New Year's resolution typically requires.

So, we need for you to give us feedback, which is not that hard; we are going to have paper surveys, online surveys, and the equipment needed to fill out either. We might even have a playful competition between the branches. What the Library needs to do to stick with our side of the resolution is to make our new habit stick. So let's take a look at some ways to make a habit stick:

1. Establish realistic goals. I think this is pretty realistic.
2. Stay positive. That's easy; sticking with this is going to make the Library better than ever!
3. It usually takes twenty-one

days to build a new habit. No problem! We are going to do this for at least twenty-eight days!

4. Become a morning person. I'm not sure how that's going to help, but we open at 9:00 AM Monday through Saturday!

5. Change your diet the right way. Yeah. About that. Let's just stick with the feedback habit, and I'll keep my occasional doughnut.

The Library can make this new habit of listening and collecting feedback stick if our patrons help us by getting as many people as possible to fill out our surveys with useful information. Help us get feedback from the first of the month until the very end and together we can make the feedback habit last and make your Library even better than ever.

Got Four Minutes? Please Take Our Survey!

We're planning for the Library's future, and your feedback is an essential part of that!

It's our dream that every single Bullitt County citizen has easy access to a wealth of library services. It's our job to provide those services through a network of neighborhood facilities as well as an amazing assortment of digital resources that you can download from your car, your home, or wherever you happen to be.

This survey is designed to help us pinpoint the best ways of accomplishing that goal, from determining which services and materials are most important to YOU to finding out what barriers might keep you from visiting the library more often.

Important Dates

Free HIV Testing

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), 1.1 million people live with HIV in the United States. Of that number, one in seven people with HIV—more than 150,000 people—are unaware of their infection. That’s why the CDC recommends that everyone between the ages of 13 and 64 gets tested at least once and that high-risk groups get tested more often. Based on the CDC’s 2016 annual report, Kentucky ranks 25th highest for HIV diagnoses in the country.

The health and safety of our patrons and the county at large is important to us here at BCPL. HIV treatment is available and accessible; many people who contract the disease go on to live normal, healthy lives with the proper medication and treatment. But you cannot treat an illness if you don’t know you have it.

To that end, we are partnering with the Volunteers of America Mid-States to offer free, confidential HIV testing at all four of BCPL’s locations. Sessions take about 20 minutes, and test results are provided at the end of each session.

The Volunteers of America has offered HIV services for over 20 years, and their HIV testing program follows the CDC guidelines. Every VOA HIV staff member that administers the test has been trained and certified for Fundamentals of HIV Pre & Post Testing by the Kentucky Department of Public Health. Registration is not required for this event in order to preserve the anonymity of those who participate.

For more information about available testing dates and times, please see Page 6.

Maybe your big goal this year is to save up and go abroad. Brush up on the appropriate foreign language at Mango Languages! This easy-to-use resource walks you through real-life scenarios and conversations to help you learn a language. Plus, Mango strives to provide authentic and useful cultural information in the lessons, which will come in handy on your trip.

And finally, it’s possible you don’t have a particular desire to learn a new hobby—maybe you just want to learn! Learning isn’t just for kids and college students. The world is a huge, beautiful place with so much to teach you. Sign up for your free Kanopy account, and watch The Great Courses series.
