Start Fresh in 2020

Do you have a stash of library books from years ago stuffed into the back of your closet? Or maybe you checked out a stack of movies, brought them back a week late, and just couldn’t face the overdue fines that racked up while you weren’t paying attention.

Please don’t let those things keep you from the Library! Now is your chance to start fresh, with no late fines on your account and no judgment from us. Simply bring your overdue (or presumed lost) items back to the library, and the slate will be wiped clean. Already brought them back? We’ll clear those charges, too.

Every year, we bring you Fine Forgiveness February so that you can start the year off right at BCPL. Throughout the month of February, no new charges will be accrued on overdue items as long as they are returned in before 5:00 PM on Saturday, February 29th! We hope this will alleviate some of the worry that may occur throughout the month due to winter weather and road hazards.

Even better, we will also waive any pre-existing fines on your account as long as the items are returned by the end of business on February 29th. It doesn’t matter if the items were returned late two years ago or if you are just now bringing them back to the library. If you have overdue items or fines already charged to your account, we WANT to forgive them!

So bring all those long overdue items back to your favorite BCPL location, stop by the circulation desk, and request that your fines be waived. As long as your items are returned—no matter how long you’ve had them!—we’ll clear your account.

2019: BCPL by the Numbers

Numbers and statistics can be really boring. But numbers can also be essential to evaluating progress, identifying service gaps, and planning for the future.

Take the upcoming US census. The population of Bullitt County was underreported in the last census, which translated to fewer services and less money than we might have received. (So be sure to report your household information this year!) Census accuracy is essential to determining government funding and the quality and amount of services our library can provide to the community.

Numbers can also help dispel misinformation or inaccurate beliefs. Consider the commonly held opinion that in our digital age libraries are dusty, empty book repositories that are no longer needed. When we reviewed the numbers from 2019, we discovered that library visits are actually WAY up. Between now and 2015, BCPL has seen a 37.7% spike in visits, with a whopping 370,130 visits in 2019 alone. The number of programs, checkouts, and other measurements have been steadily growing too. WOW!

Of course, the numbers don’t tell the whole story either. That’s where feedback and stories from our patrons come in. Together, numbers and stories prove that libraries are essential to the community and help to create a richer picture of what we’re doing right, what we might do better, and what we should concentrate on as we make plans for 2020 and beyond.
From the Director

Say It Again, Joe

Well it’s (nearly) Groundhog Day… again.

Some people ask me what I like about working at a library. I always include that every day is different and I’m usually doing something new. As fun as that is, sometimes it’s nice to have something that we offer that is routine. Sometimes it feels like déjà vu. I love being able to offer our usual February event, Fine Forgiveness, during which you can clear out your overdue fines by simply visiting one of our branches and talking to one of our clerks.

It’s a repeat performance that’s kind of like Groundhog Day, but the end result is saving money and making the most of an opportunity. Wipe that slate clean and start getting the most out of your library account again!

Again, like Groundhog Day, I have to mention our Nichols branch and how it is so nearly ready for you. This time, though, I also get to tell you to keep an eye on the Bullitt County Public Library website, Facebook page, or the outside of the building.

Those doors might be open to the public before you can say “Ned Ryerson.” We can’t wait for you to see it!

Also, just like in previous years, public library advocates will be heading to Frankfort in February to talk with elected officials and share stories about the services they offer and the impacts that they have on their communities. Bullitt County Public Library wants to thank you for sharing your stories! Continue to let us know about your favorite services that you can’t live without, or tell us about a time that your library made a difference in your life. It helps your officials understand more about what libraries mean to their constituents and it means that we will continue to be able to provide these and other great services to you. We want to make sure your voices are heard! Keep on telling your friends and family members, too; there is something at or available from the library for everyone.

Like last February, more big updates are coming this year from your library. Make sure you don’t forget your booties ‘cause it’s cold out there!

Joe Schweiss, Director
Bullitt County Public Library

DID YOU KNOW…? Library Legislative Day Is February 6th

On Kentucky Library Legislative Day, librarians from all over the state visit with their legislators in Frankfort to concentrate awareness on the important role libraries play in their communities.

Library supporters are asked to wear yellow on that day as the unified color lends strength to the overall voice and message.

I’m playing catch-up by looking up some “Best of” lists from 2019. My list of books to read soon includes:

Furious Hours: Murder, Fraud, and the Last Trial of Harper Lee by Casey Cep

The Gone Dead by Chanelle Benz

The Travelers by Regina Porter

Hours & Locations

Sunday 1:00–5:00 PM (Ridgway only)
Mon.–Thu. 9:00 AM–8:00 PM
Fri. & Sat. 9:00 AM–5:00 PM

Ridgway Memorial (Main Library in Shepherdsville)
127 N. Walnut Street, 543-7675

Hillview 155 Terry Boulevard, 957-5759

Lebanon Junction 11382 S. Preston Highway, 833-4648

Mt. Washington 214 N. Bardstown Road, 538-7560

Thank you for sharing your stories with us!

Stories from our patrons help our elected officials better understand the impact libraries have on their communities.

Nichols Construction Update

We’re emptying boxes and filling shelves at our new Nichols Branch Library! Our new staff began on-location training right after Martin Luther King, Jr. Day, and everyone’s starting to feel right at home and so excited for opening day.

There are still a few last-minute details to work out before we can determine an opening date, but an announcement isn’t too far off. Please stay tuned for exciting news on the Library’s website and main Facebook account!

Find the Information You Need with AtoZdatabases

Recently, a patron asked us for help verifying the owner of a property they wanted to rent. The patron wanted to make sure the offer wasn’t a scam.

Marianne, one of our reference gurus at Ridgway Memorial, found the answer with AtoZdatabases. The property owner was legit. As a bonus, Marianne also found names and contact info for the adjacent property owners, in case the patron wanted to learn a little more about the area and neighbors before making a decision.

AtoZdatabases is a premier online reference and research tool providing library cardholders instant, up-to-date information on US businesses and residents, including:

- Background searches and criminal checks.
- Job opportunities.
- Marketing and sales leads.
- Mailing lists.
- Profiles on companies, executives, and healthcare professionals.

Plus, you can try Platinum Search to find or search by historical addresses, attend live training webinars with AtoZ University, or send your own marketing e-mails for free with pre-designed templates for events like family reunions, youth sports, or wedding announcements.

“AtoZdatabases has been a reliable resource every time I have searched it,” said Marianne, “I especially appreciate the user-friendly homepage.”
